not been sufficiently explored. Thus while, in each discipline of game theory, multiobjective decision making and fuzzy sets theory, an enormous number of articles along with significant monographs and books have already been published, there seems to be no book which is designed to study games in fuzzy and multiobjective environments.

Fuzzy and Multiobjective Games for Conflict Resolution

This book presents some of the most important concepts in noncooperative games and cooperative games and introduces as well the latest advances in the new field of game theory in fuzzy and multiobjective environments. Several game representations and solution concepts are introduced which take the ambiguity and the multiplicity of objectives into consideration.

Fuzzy and Multiobjective Games for Conflict Resolution

Fuzzy sets and interactive multiobjective optimization, this monograph is the first to integrate ambiguous parameters in problem formulation with fuzzy goals for multiobjective optimization into a unified methodology.

Li [10] studies several types of fuzzy multiobjective matrix games. Kandel and Zhang [12] develop the basic principles of the theory of fuzzy moves based on the theory of moves and game theory.

Fuzzy Sets and Systems | Theme: Optimization and games

In this paper, we consider multiobjective two-person zero-sum games with vector payoffs and vector fuzzy payoffs. We translate such games into the corresponding multiobjective programming problems and introduce the pessimistic Pareto optimal solution concept by assuming that a player supposes the opponent adopts the most disadvantage strategy for the self.

Interactive Fuzzy Approaches for Solving Multiobjective

The purpose of the paper is to introduce a new type of fuzzy matrix games: fuzzy constrained matrix games. A computational method for its solution based on establishment of the auxiliary fuzzy linear programming for each player is proposed. The approach based on the multiobjective programming is established to solve these fuzzy linear programming.

FUZZY MULTIOBJECTIVE PROGRAMMING METHODS FOR FUZZY

This model is named as multi-objective entropy bimatrix game model. The formulated model is a multi-objective non-linear programming problem. To solve this model, we have introduced a solution procedure, which determines the feasibility of multi-objective non-linear programming problem using fuzzy programming ap-
