Human capital is the stock of knowledge, habits, social and personality attributes, including creativity, embodied in the ability to perform labor so as to produce economic value. Human capital theory is closely associated with the study of human resources management as found in the practice of business administration and macroeconomics. The original idea of human capital can be traced back at ...

Human capital - Wikipedia

Human capital flight refers to the emigration of individuals who have received advanced training at home. The net benefits of human capital flight for the receiving country are sometimes referred to as a "brain gain" whereas the net costs for the sending country are sometimes referred to as a "brain drain". In occupations that experience a surplus of graduates, immigration of foreign-trained ...

These characteristics of human capital prompted Harlan Cleveland, former President of the World Academy of Art and Science, to observe that "the only limits are the limits to imagination and creativity" (18). They led Aurelio Peccei, founder of the Club of Rome, to argue that human capital is the most underutilized of all forms of capital (19). ...
