There is no resonance in the chest. What you feel in the chest is called "sympathetic vibration". It's a sensation that results from the massive amount of sonic energy that we are sending into our heads that gets partially absorbed by bone and tissue. This absorbed sonic energy causes vibrations in our chest for lower frequency notes.

The Difference Between Resonance and Sympathetic Vibration

Sympathetic resonance or sympathetic vibration is a harmonic phenomenon wherein a formerly passive string or vibratory body responds to external vibrations to which it has a harmonic likeness. The classic example is demonstrated with two similar tuning-forks of which one is mounted on a wooden box.
